

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XIX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1891.

NO. 32

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Go to W. E. Perkins' for machine oil.

—Everybody should come to the Masonic picnic here tomorrow, or go to hear John Young Brown.

—Isaac Herrin bought this week of various parties in Pulaski 125 spring lambs for which he paid 4 cents. He also bought 10 head of cattle at 2 cents. Dan Holman bought a bunch of wethers at 3 cents.

—Miss Mollie Warren returned Sunday from Williamsburg, where she has been attending college. Miss Lottie Dillon is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. M. O'Bryan, at Junction City. John Brooks, of Harrodsburg, spent Sunday with the home folks.

—The remains of James M. Harris, who died of consumption at Wilmore, Jessamine county, were brought here Friday, and interred at Ephesus churchyard. Mr. Harris was a brother of Mrs. Morgan Chappell and Mr. John H. Harris, of this place, and was born and reared here. He was about 40 years old at the time of his death. A wife and seven children survive him.

—That handsome fellow, Wm. A. Brooks, one of the "Angels of Commerce," as Andrew Decker calls the drummer, came in from Stanford Friday, smiling luxuriantly. Oh! yes, sweet Willie, we are on to your little game, and know exactly who you like to "make Stanford" so well on your rounds. We don't blame you; pretty girls are hard to find. Go on and do thyself no hurt; we'll be mum!

—West King, a colored blood of equivocal reputation, and another negro named Rice got into a fracas at Manly Owsley's Saturday night, and Rice stuck his Barlow knife into King's neck, making an ugly and painful wound, from which the red blood spouted freely. King claims that he was held by two other negroes, while Rice, who is only a mere boy, did the bloody work. Dr. Pettus dressed the wound. No arrests.

—The C. O. public school, numbering 123 pupils, will be taught this year by Prof. J. W. Smith; Green Hill (Holmes), with 73 pupils, secures a teacher in Miss Virgie White; W. J. Edmiston gets Ephesus, which reports 79; Mrs. Alice Phillips makes her calling and election sure at Walnut Flat, where there's a new school house and 83 interesting children; and Eljan, Bastin has the "cinch" on the Adams district of 44 lads and lasses of scholastic age.

—The organization of a Grand Army Post here is one of the certainties of the near future. Messrs. George H. Patten and Granville Haley, who are the promoters of the scheme, have already secured 11 members, and this week they will doubtless treble that number. There are some 75 or 80 late-war veterans, most of whom are pensioners, in this vicinity; and, out of this number, it seems, there should be obtained sufficient material to found a flourishing post. Department Commander Sam G. Hillis, of Concord, Ky., has been written to for the necessary commission papers.

—J. T. Lynn, the popular drummer, was here Thursday. Mrs. Annie Mayfield, of Pineville, is at her father's, Mr. Wm. Stuart's. Miss Nora Nelson has returned to her home at East Bernstadt. Miss Alice Stuart is spending her vacation with her father's family. She tells us that she and Miss Cettie Thurmond will have charge of the Stanford public school again this fall. Miss Mamie Deboard accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson to Pineville, where she will spend the summer. Mr. R. S. Knowles of the purchasing department of the L. & N., was the guest of J. H. Collier this week. Miss Emma Stevens is visiting her brother, Ulysses, at Dillon's.

—Dr. W. M. Doones showed us recently a clothes brush, which, he says, has been in constant use in his family for 40 years, he having purchased it at Independence, Mo., in 1851. We can beat this. We have in our possession a snuff box, which was owned by our great-great-grandfather, and brought from England by that ancient worthy sometime in the early part of the 18th century. It is of very antiquated make, and known to be at least 150 years old. As there is no Capt. Grove of Scotch renown in this locality to gather up these "auld wick-wackets," we respectfully call the attention of the managers of the Chicago World's Fair to this item.

—Beginning Saturday, July 11th, the world-renowned turfman and horse-trainer, Scott Faris, will inaugurate his summer races at Spring Hill Park, in the suburbs of town; and, until the 1st of September, the amusement-loving public may expect every Saturday afternoon horse races, mule races and, maybe, foot races, to which allentries will be free. Purses will be hung up for the winners in each race, and there will be all the attractions—minus, of course, the pool-selling—seen at Churchill Downs. Before the war Spring Hill was one of the most famous tracks in Kentucky, and many a fast flyer tested his mettle on it. For a time at least Mr. Faris proposes to revive its ancient renown, and will, by way of heightening the interest of the races, take and train saddle horses, trotters and flyers on his own grounds.

And Yet the Rads Would Legitimize the Bastard.

The following is from a republican paper published at Washington, the National Tribune:

As we predicted, the new constitution of Kentucky is having a rough experience before the people, and it will probably be defeated. The usual blunder was made in an aggravated form by the convention which formulated it. Instead of confining themselves to lopping off features which had become obsolete and obstructive, and supplying the few which were demanded by the changed political conditions, the members of the convention have worked into the new organic law a mass of ill-digested and empirical stuff, which, there is grave reason to fear, may be obstructive to the development of the State. Every member of the convention wanted to permanently crystallize in the constitution some special fal of his own, which would remain a permanent monument to his statesmanship. The lesson that constitution-makers seem to find it impossible to learn is that the less of the constitution there is the better. In fact, we incline to the belief that it would be a public advantage if every State constitution in the country were abolished, and the whole responsibility of Government thrown upon the Legislatures. It is preposterous to assume that the men assembled in constitutional convention must be necessarily wiser and purer than those elected to the Legislatures, so that the former must hamper and check the latter for an indefinite term of years, and in dealing with matters and conditions which no man can possibly foresee. Many of the ablest political writers believe that all written constitutions are detrimental to true progress, and they instance the unwritten British constitution, which can be constantly and easily liberalized as the spirit and knowledge of the people develop.

DEALING WITH A JURY.—A distinguished judge once addressed the prisoner as follows: Prisoner at the bar, your counsel think you innocent; the counsel for the prosecution think you innocent; I think you innocent. But a jury of your countrymen, in the exercise of such common sense as they possess, which does not seem to be much, have found you "guilty," and it remains that I should pass upon you the sentence of the law. That sentence is that you be kept in imprisonment for one day, and, as that day was yesterday, you may go about your business.—Dry Goods Chronicle.

AN IRISH GIRL'S LETTER.—"Oh, Paddy, swate Paddy! if I was ye're daddy I'd kill ye wete kisses entirely; if I was ye're brother and likewise yore mother I'd see that ye went to bed airly. To taste of ye're breath, I'd starve to death, and lay off my hoops altogether; to jostle have a taste of ye're arm on my waste, I'd lart at the nearest of weather. Dear Paddy! be mine, me own volun-tairine—ye'll find me both gentil and civil; our lives we will spind to an illegant ind, and care may go dance with the devil."—Russellville Herald.

Clapham Junction, London, is probably the most remarkable and busiest railway junction point in the world. At this point the London and South-western and London and Brighton and South Coast Railways join and cross each other, and an average of 1,200 trains pass this place every 24 hours. Of this number 1,000 pass the junction between the hours of 7 A. M. and 10 P. M., which gives an average of one train every 54 seconds during the 15 hours. The traffic is chiefly passenger trains.

THE WISE JAPANESE.—Mrs. Peppercorn (reading)—"One of the idols most revered by the Japanese is that represented by the figure of a woman, seated, resting her chin in her hand."

Mr. Peppercorn—Very interesting my dear. Proves that the Japanese are among the wisest people of the earth.

Mrs. P.—How so?

Mr. P. (impressively)—Because they deify a woman who gives her chin a rest.

GARRARD.—License was issued to Mr. Jas. Smith, of Lincoln, and Miss Eliza Anderson, of Garrard, to marry at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Belle Austin, on the Crab Orchard pike. Mr. Geo. Ballard sold his farm in the Bryantsville neighborhood, containing about 240 acres, to W. J. Ballard, at $25. J. M. Layton, Jr., a stock-trader, made an assignment when attached for $2,000 by E. Lear.—Record.

If Pennsylvania has been robbed of $20,000,000 since the war, people will begin to think that money obtained through high tariff doesn't stick.

A legacy of $350,000 has most unexpectedly fallen to General Booth, of the Salvation Army. It came from a woman in Glasgow.

MT. SALEM.

—Vina Burdett's (col'd) house burned a few nights since while she was attending prayer meeting.

—A relapse of la grippe is the only excuse your correspondent can offer for several weeks' non appearance in the INTERIOR JOURNAL. Being now slightly on the mend, he once more resumes his labor.

—The turnpike bridge across one branch of Pine Lick is now in a dangerous condition. Other bridges also are said to be in a bad fix. The attention of those responsible for keeping the road in repair is called to these facts, as accidents might cause much cost and litigation.

—Mr. Thos. Spears, of Indian Creek, who takes very tender care of his ducklings, hearing a noise among them the other day, was much surprised to find one of them swallowed all but the feet by a big bull frog. After choking the frog awhile, he succeeded in rescuing his duck.

—Mrs. Mary W. Jasper is now spending a few days at her old home. She claims Texas a second paradise, but somehow or other we can't see much improvement in her avoirdupois. E. Tarrant will teach the public school at Liberty this year and if no Presidential hindrance will open July 6th.

—Many years ago the Chalybeate Springs at this place was a considerable resort for the youngsters at certain times and it was supposed several wonderful cures were effected by its fine medicinal qualities. But the shade trees around it disappeared, the waters became warm and it was entirely neglected. Lately Mr. M. S. Jones has taken it in hand, removed part of the bluff, dug a new basin, built a house over it and otherwise improved the surroundings. Who knows but what it may again be a resort for the invalids?

—There was a grand meeting of old folks at Mr. Logan's at this place, Friday for dinner, mostly Mr. G.'s kinsfolk. They were Sam Logan, now of Illinois, but once one of old Lincoln's boys and a worthy representative of one of her famous families; his age now is 61; Hugh Logan, aged 65; Ben Givens, 81; Matt McKinney, 82, and Wm. Lewis, 63. They were all fine specimens of Lincoln's best families and the sad reflection comes to the writer, himself not a spring chicken, that just such men as they were in their palmy days and the material of which they are made are becoming sparse.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—Miss Fannie Elliott, sister of Mrs. J. P. Jones, of this place, died before she reached her bedside. She had been ill a long time of peritonitis, for which four operations had been performed. Miss Elliott was about 30 years of age and a devoted member of the Episcopal church.

—The Advocate records the death of Mrs. Mary J. Bowman, at the ripe old age of 73. She was the wife of Nicholas Bowman, and two children survive her, Mrs. Heber Craft, of McComb City, Miss., and Miss Anna Bowman, of Danville. Mrs. Bowman was a member of the Presbyterian church, a true Christian, lived the life of a servant of God, and bore her trials with fortitude becoming a follower of Christ.

—Mr. J. H. Vanhook, of Brodhead, was down Sunday to get a casket for Mr. John C. Albright, who died of Bright's disease, aged about 40. The deceased was formerly deputy sheriff of Rockcastle and was both popular and highly respected. He was a member of the Christian church and of the Masonic order. A wife and two sons survive him. The remains were taken by his brother Masons to Maysburg and at 1 o'clock yesterday consigned to the earth in their impressive ceremony.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCarty, of Kingsley, have been called on to mourn the loss of their lovely daughter, Miss Rosa, who died Saturday of typhoid fever after an illness of two weeks. She attended Christian College, Hustonville, last session and was particularly apt in her studies and greatly loved by her teachers and schoolmates. The funeral sermon was preached Sunday by Elds. Allen and Livingston, of whose church she was a member, and then the cruel earth shut from view the dotting parents' household idol.

—The Richmond Register in noticing the death of Ed. John R. White, which occurred last week in Boyle, says the older citizens of Madison will all kindly remember Elder White, although he removed from the county more than a quarter of a century ago. He was not an educated man, but he was thoroughly devoted to Christ, and his whole life was spent in His cause. In his homely way he was an instrument by which hundreds of people were turned from the errors in their path. He was a great student of the Bible, and there are few men living who could quote more passages from that sacred book. He was always modest in his demeanor and never sought the applause of the world, but only the approval of his conscience and his God. May he, as he stands face to face with that Being who shall pronounce our several dooms, receive the welcome plaudit, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

HUSTONVILLE.

—James W. Harper sold to Al. Burns a fancy roadster for $200.

—It is reported that 11 jurors were for imprisonment in penitentiary in the case of Clem Wilkinson for killing Charley Lipe, at Liberty, for from five to 20 years, and one juror for $500 fine and imprisonment in county jail.

—A new trial has been granted Scott McFerran in a controversy about some timber removed from the Reid land near here, in Casey county, three or four years ago. The case has been through all the courts and will take a new start in Casey circuit court.

—Dr. Brown is again the favored recipient of a magnificent souvenir, the handwork of a handsome young lady. A pin cushion of elaborate finish and "hand painting," proclaim Miss Blanche Twidwell an artist of extraordinary dexterity with both needle and brush.

—Mr. James H. Stag and wife, who are amongst the oldest residents of Harrodsburg, were up last week and spent three or four days with their many relatives of the West End. Dr. A. S. Price, a comparative stranger to these parts, was here Sunday. S. G. Drye was home from Lawrenceburg Saturday and Sunday.

—Mr. Wm. P. Swope, county clerk of sweet Owen, and wife, nee Miss Rosa Drye, are visiting West End relatives. Les Reid has abandoned Stanford and taken charge of his father's extensive apiary. His time between sunrise and dark is occupied herding the many swarms. John Ellis is here on a day or two's furlough. Mrs. George Drye, of Kansas, is here. Mrs. Drye is a daughter of Dr. Wesley, of Middleburg.

—Things never adjust themselves to the satisfaction of farmers. Too much wet when plowing for spring crops—too dry when ready to pitch the corn crop, and continuously dry till the granger was disheartened by failure of oats and hay crops; now the showers interfere with harvesting. It was ever thus. It is the general verdict that the wheat is unusually good, and the only solicitude is about its safety till stacked.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Daniel L. Moore, of Harrodsburg, and Miss Minnie, daughter of Dudley M. Ball, of Woodford, will wed at the Versailles Christian church, June 30th. There will be 10 bridesmaids and 10 groomsmen and ushers.

—Miss Libbie Pegan, whose sweet face and sweet voice will always be remembered by music lovers in Stanford, will be married in Louisville to-morrow at high noon to Dr. Gregor, of Utah, and leave at once via the East for their future home in the far West. Miss Pegan is one of the most lovable women we have ever known and the one who has won her is to be congratulated. We have nothing against the fortunate groom, but we wish the Kentucky boys had not permitted him to come to Kentucky and steal away one of her fairest and best.

Some years ago the Standard Oil Company put out certificates to the extent of $70,000,000. Since then these certificates have been watered $20,000,000, and yet they sell to day at 60 above par and pay 12 per cent. dividends. Monopoly is a very beautiful thing for the monopolists.—Baltimore American.

Capital is a splendid good thing for a farmer, but common sense is better. With the latter a young man may get on at first without the former and in time he will have both. But he may have ever so much of the former to start with without the latter he will soon have neither.

Mr. Hacking Koff—Doctor, didn't you make a mistake in going into medicine instead of into the army?

Dr. Eagle—Why?

Mr. Koff—By the way you charge your friends there wouldn't be much left of an enemy.—Pack.

The great Lick telescope reveals about 100,000,000 of stars, and every one of them is a sun, theoretically and by analogy giving light and heat to his planets; this telescope reveals stars so small that it would require 30,000 of them to be visible to the naked eye.

The area and capacity of the Hotel del Coronado, of San Diego, the largest hotel in the world, are: Area of ground, 20 acres; area covered by building, 5 acres; total floor area, 41 acres; capacity of reservoirs, 150,000 gallons; area of dining room, 10,000 square feet.

There is a laundryman in Paris who has discarded all soap, sodas and bleaching powders in his establishment. He merely uses plenty of water and boiled potatoes, and can cleanse, without employing any alkali, the most soiled linens, cottons or woollens.

The Y. M. C. A.'s of the country now own property worth $12,250,000. One thousand and 83 persons are engaged as paid officials, and there are 225,000 members.

The Hon. John Young Brown, democratic nominee for Governor, will expound the doctrines of his party in his own eloquent and impressive manner at Stanford, tomorrow, 24th, at 1 o'clock. Come ye out to hear him.

ONE of the hugest fizzes, in a small way, that we have read of in many a day was the so-called conference of the advocates of the new constitution, which met at Lexington Friday. According to the dispatches, there were just 23 persons present, 14 of whom were delegates to the convention that constructed the fearful and wonderful code of experimental statutes and with two or three possible exceptions, none of them were either prominent or distinguished. The other nine were from Lexington and other parts not very remote. Joe Blackburn, who we suppose, wants to help his brother Jim out, was present and presided over the august body, which met in a room of the Phoenix Hotel and proceeded to business by excluding the newspaper reporters, who of course got all they wanted without being forced to listen to the music of the "conspirators." It was resolved after much talk to follow the plan of proceedings adopted by the anti-constitution meeting and Senator Blackburn was appointed the chairman of the State Central Committee with headquarters at Louisville. The only things demonstrated by the gathering were the alarm felt over the fate of the new constitution and the lack of enthusiasm for it even among its framers. Why the meeting should have been held within locked doors is a mystery, unless the actors thought their acts were dark and were unwilling to have them scrutinized by the public.

THE pro-constitution people think they have made a ten strike in securing Senator Blackburn for their side, and their papers are feeding him taffy by the bucket full. A great many people are of opinion, however, that Joe is neither as great a man as he imagines himself nor as his new found friends, especially the Post, which was not wont to do so, now paint him. The senator seems to have an idea that he held the late democratic convention up by the tail and could have had the new constitution endorsed if he had desired. He also makes an unbecoming fling at Gen. Basil Duke, a member of the committee on resolutions, whom he virtually charges with being coached from the outside on the constitution and other questions.

ALL the women are not angels if the story telegraphed from Newburg, N. Y., is true. One is in jail there, barely out of her teens who very fully demonstrates the doctrine of total depravity. Within three months she is said to have married an old farmer, burned down his house, mill and barn, roasted his weak-minded son to death in one of her fires and wound up by running off with a Newburg livery team and surrey and trading them for other horses and a wagon. She may have been at other devilment, but this is as far as the charges go at present.

THE announcement that "Old Saddlebags" is dead will be received everywhere with regret. Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, after a long life spent in the service of his country, passed peacefully away Sunday night at his home in Indianapolis, fully of years and full of honors. He was successively prosecuting attorney, congressman and senator and in every station demonstrated that he was a man. A fine lawyer, a broad-minded statesman and a patriot, his constituents delighted to honor him and he served them with honesty and fidelity.

LT. GOV. BRYAN, who is acting governor while Gov. Buckner is off on a pleasure trip East, is granting pardons a little livelier than the necessities of the case seem to require. It ought to be against the law for a lieutenant governor to issue pardons while the governor is alive and not incapacitated.

OF the $130,000,000 surplus that Grover Cleveland left in the treasury but $1,250,000 remains, and $51,000,000 bonds fall due Sept. 1. Calico Charley Foster and Kid Glove Ben Harrison will have to do some lively shuffling to keep the U. S. out of the hands of a receiver at this rate.

A LEXINGTON paper says that although C. J. Bronston was in the city when the handful of delegates met in secret session to devise ways and means to carry the new constitution, he did not attend the meeting. Has he become disgusted with the concern too?

THE News says Col. Thomas H. Arnold has purchased the Middlesboro Democrat of W. H. Polk and will make a Sunday paper out of it, to be known as the Critic, and we wager it will be rich, rare and racy. Col. Polk will return to Lexington.

—The Middlesboro News is now a twilight twinkler.

—The president and his family have gone to their gift cottage at Cape May.

THE State press is about evenly divided on the new constitution, so far as numbers are concerned, with the larger dailies against the instrument. The Courier-Journal had extracts yesterday from about 50 papers that oppose the adoption of the constitution, which is not all by quite a number.

Finley Fee Goes Up for Life. Other Whittier Items.

(To the Interior Journal.) WILLIAMSBURG, June 20.—In the case of commonwealth vs. Finley Fee and others, for the murder of James T. Middleton, the jury brought in a verdict this morning of guilty and sent the defendant to the penitentiary for life. Eight of the jury were for the death penalty. It was a long and tedious trial, lasting about two weeks. All the lawyers spoke two hours except Bobbitt and Finley, Bobbitt speaking 3 1/2 hours and Finley five minutes longer. When Bobbitt spoke the court-house was crowded with ladies, and the clapping of hands and frequent outbursts of applause could not be restrained by the court. When he got through with Ewell and Forester they were both dead and buried and funeral preached, and then turning fiercely upon Finley and Hall left both of them mortally wounded upon the field. I told the jury at the start that I intended to erect a scaffold or building of crime, the four cornerstones of which would be antecedent threats, former grudges, circumstantial evidence and subsequent confessions, and then I would leave them to say whether it was a scaffold upon which the defendant stood with a halter around his neck or the dismal walls of the penitentiary with the defendant on the inside.

I have just received a letter from Middlesboro to go there to-day to defend a man for murder to-morrow. I am now doing as my old friend Thomas C. Hunter used to advise me to do, to attend the circuit courts in the mountains, and the result is as he told me it would be. I am employed in every important case in court.

The rest of the murder cases, except that of little John Howard, have been continued till December term. I don't see now that I shall ever be permitted to stay at my dear old Crab Orchard home much more.

It rains up here nearly every day, and last night there was the most fearful rain storm I ever saw, many of the guests at Williamsburg hotel getting up and talking of going out and standing in the rain for fear the building would blow down. The jury especially were badly frightened and prepared to leave the hotel.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, C., states that he had been under the care of prominent physicians and used their remedies until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. They All Failed.

The following letter from Mr. W. A. Thomson, of Columbus, Wis., is peculiarly interesting: "My wife," says he, "has been treated for her head, stomach and nervous prostration by three doctors in New York, two in Chicago, one in Philadelphia, one in Cincinnati, and at the large institute in Buffalo for 16 months. They all failed. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine helped her wonderfully. This should be used in all such cases, headaches, changes of life, nervous disturbances, fits, rheumatism, etc. Ask at A. R. Penny's drug store for a free trial bottle and Dr. Miles' new book on the Nerves and Liver."

My mind and eyesight have improved wonderfully. I advise all persons thus afflicted to use this great remedy." A. R. Penny, drugist, recommends and guarantees it. A SLIGHT change in the schedule of the day passenger trains on this division went into effect Sunday. No. 23 now passes at 1:34 P. M. instead of 1:31, and 24 at 12:29. None of the freight trains carry passengers now. The principal change in the schedule is in these trains.

THE JOLLY TEN.—A number of engineers on the L. & N. have rented the Tom Short House at Rowland, and will run a boarding house under the above name for their own convenience. They have procured a first-class cook and will discount the Galt House in service and fare.

BUCKEYE MACHINES.—A supply of these excellent machines is kept constantly on hand at I. M. Bruce's, Stanford, Crow & Co.'s McKinney, and W. A. Carson's, Crab Orchard, where twine and repairs can also be had at all times. Examine the merits of the Buckeye before buying. J. O. Shields, general agent, Stanford.

THE court of appeals has reversed the judgment of three years ago when John Bosse, rendered by the Laurel circuit court for the killing of Larkin Byrd. Byrd was drunk and firing recklessly, when the bullet came so close to the wife of Bosse, who had never before had any trouble with Byrd, that Bosse, in an effort to force Byrd to cease his drunken assault, was forced to kill the assailant.

THE coupling pole of Mr. John Ferguson's vehicle, in which were Mrs. Kate Dudderar, Mrs. Ferguson and two children, broke at the crossing on Lancaster street Friday and the occupants were precipitated in close proximity to the heels of the horse, which is a fiery looking one, but which had the good manners and presence of mind to stand perfectly still, and a serious accident was averted, though the ladies were scared out of their wits.

MR. H. C. FARRIS received a dispatch from Somerset Sunday saying that Mr. W. W. Brown had died that morning. Three weeks ago he was kicked by a mule and had his skull crushed. The operation of trepanning was performed and it was necessary to take out a considerable quantity of brains. The patient rallied, however, and seemed in a fair way to recovery, but the shock was too much. Mr. Brown married a Miss Woods, a niece of Mrs. H. C. Farris and she and three children are left to mourn the untimely death. Deceased was an Ohioan by birth and was one of the largest fruit raisers in Kentucky.

FOUR SCORE AND ONE.—Mr. M. D. Hardin, of Monticello, spent a day or two with his son, Mark Hardin, of this place, after attending the burial of his sister, Miss Sarah Hardin, who died last week at the advanced age of 91 years. Mr. Hardin is 81 himself, but does not look it by 10 years. He and a family of 11 children were raised in this county on the place that Capt. H. T. Bush now lives, their parents coming to Kentucky from Virginia in the pioneer days. Mr. Hardin had nine brothers and none of them taking to the life of a farmer, they all sought other occupations and scattered over several states. Several of them are still living, including our country man, Mr. Sam'l Hardin, of Crab Orchard. Mr. Hardin has lived in Monticello for many years, and has for the most time kept tavern, at which he not only made money but a big name in all his section. He was married three times, his first two wives leaving a child each and the last, whom he married in 1848, raising 12. The girls married well and the boys are all doing nicely, either as lawyers, merchants or bankers. Mr. Hardin is a fine old gentleman and we enjoyed very much an hour's talk with him about old times.

THE farmer who does not take advantage of this cessation of the showers to cut his wheat deserves to lose it and starve.

SUNDAY was the longest day of the year, according to the almanac, and numerous of our citizens haven't the slightest doubt of it.

THAT irrepressible coon, Jim Tall, stuck a knife into Mit Embry, Sunday, which came near entering the bowels and producing a serious wound. Jim was arrested and at the trial yesterday proved that he was only in fun and was discharged.

GARRARD is to have a fair this year, July 17 and 18. Judge W. E. Walker was chosen president; E. W. Lillard, secretary, with J. M. Farrar assistant and L. Y. Leavelle treasurer. M. S. Baughman, Porter Sandridge and D. B. Edmiston are the honorary vice-presidents from Lincoln.

THE L. & N. pay car passed Saturday on its joyful mission to the railroad boys. Paymaster E. E. Ranney is a courteous gentleman, but strictly business. He can handle money faster than Barnum's prize ticket seller and rarely ever makes a mistake.

THE Liberty Circuit Court closed Friday. Walker Bell for killing Ed Snow, the particulars of which are fresh in the minds of our readers, was acquitted, the jury being out less than three minutes. Another hung jury resulted in the Clem Wilkinson case. It will be remembered that he killed Charles Lipe in Liberty in Dec. 1888.

WHILE coming to town Saturday the horse driven by Mrs. E. B. Beazley and children became frightened and turning a corner suddenly, the buggy was upset and the occupants thrown down an embankment. Fortunately none of them was hurt save a few bruises, but the rockaway and harness were considerably worse for wear after the horse was stopped.

DURING this week the L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to Mammoth Cave to one or more persons for $12.55 each from Stanford; $12.55 Junction City, and Lancaster $13.20. The above rates include railroad fare, both long and short route in Cave and one day's board at Cave Hotel. Hotel rates $2 per day for each additional day. Tickets good on all regular trains. G. W. Penn, T. P. A. The Louisville Legion is in camp at the Cave.

A GOLD MINE.—Mr. G. D. McCollum, who has the only public bar-room in Boyle county and whose license will expire July 15, tells us that for several months his sales have averaged over $45 a day, from which he has netted $400 and over a month. Mr. McCollum also has a good hotel and lunch business, so he will not be entirely broken up when his license runs out. We do not know whether the prohibition law has anything to do with it or not, but another drug store is being opened at Junction City.

Down at Rowland the other day, Clarence C. Hocker, George Wickersham, Tom Hurley, Frank Parsons and Mr. Roark engaged in a little game of coontz, not knowing the severe penalty attached. A warrant was gotten out and Messrs. Wickersham and Hurley confessing before Judge Barnett they were fined $5 and costs. The others were not tried. County Attorney J. B. Paxton claims that Judge Barnett has no right to try such cases, except as an examining court, and has had warrants issued returnable before Judge Varnon for all the men. The fine is not less than $50 nor more than $100, or confinement in jail for three months or both.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Some of the richest and strongest churches in the Reformed Presbyterian denomination are withdrawing to other sects on account of the recent action in turning out a number of ministers who voted at a political election.

—The next general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be held in Memphis, Tenn. That church has also fixed its missionary appropriations for the year at $260,000. The church built 177 parsonages during the year. The gain in membership was 41,411, bringing the present number up to 1,218,561.

—A Methodist conference has suspended Rev. James Thompson for one year for preaching the heresy that "there is no material hell." He had expressed the belief that there was no punishment for wrong-doers but annihilation, and that the idea that they would be punished with perpetual fire was illogical and unsupported by Scriptural testimony.

—The State Sunday School Convention will meet this evening in the Christian church with following programme: 7:30, Song service, Alex. C. Hopkins. 7:45, Words of Welcome, John Bell Gibson. 8:00, President's response, C. P. Williamson. 8:15, Address, "God's Methods of Teaching His Will," E. L. Powell.

9:00, Appointment of committees. Benediction.

There will be three services Wednesday and Thursday, the meeting closing Thursday evening after an address, "Children and Missions," by President C. L. Loos, who will begin speaking at 8 P. M.
